TEACHING AD(H)D
CHILDREN

TAC TRAINING UNITS

The TAC Project developed 4 training units to help teachers, in-training teachers and educators on how to teach children with AD(H)D.

Background

This unit will allow teachers to understand child development, recognize AD(H)D symptoms and realize the importance of supporting children and those affected by AD(H)D.

Environment

This unit will allow teachers to understand the value of classroom management, how to apply methods for this aspect and how a positive attitude can lead to good classroom management.

Relationships

This unit will allow teachers to understand how behaviour associated with AD(H)D can impact children's relationships with teachers and peers and to recognize behaviours associated and how this diagnosis can impact of social exclusion and isolation.

Learning Experience

This unit will allow teachers to know about executive functions and their impact on learning, as well as how to identify difficulties in the executive function of pupils and challenges on teaching AD(H)D children.
